Instructions/Rules

You and your partner(s) as a team will pick one of the three scenarios and present for grading as the Final Exam for the class. Carefully follow the rules below, deviation will be reflected negatively on your grade.

1. Select from Scenario A, B, or C from below, and create a conversation 3–4 minutes long.
2. Be mindful of correct use of vocabulary, grammar, and tone of speech, as you make it.
3. Make sure that the each group member gets equal share of time speaking.
4. Practice as a group until your group can present without looking at the script in a clear voice.
5. Type out and print a copy of the script, and staple it to the back of the printout of this paper.
6. Order of presentation will be picked at random, so come prepared to go. Do not be late to exam.
7. Be absolutely quiet during the presentations; speaking will result in docked points for your group.

Scenario A

Carry a conversation as where you and your partner(s) are in a store where you are trying to buy something or ask about product at the store. Make sure to include multiple phrases or usage of words and grammar that you have learned throughout this semester. Use formal English.

Scenario B

You and your partner(s) are at a party where you carry a conversation with each other that is suitable for the party situation. Make sure to include multiple phrases or usage of words and grammar that you have learned throughout this semester. Use formal English.

Scenario C

Create your own scenario to act out where you and your partner(s) carry a conversation fitting the scenario of your choice. Make sure to include multiple phrases or usage of words and grammar that you have learned throughout this semester. Use formal English.
